

Front Porch Conversations

Discussion, Reflection, Action

Video part 2

Celebration: Our story as West Virginia Conference United Methodists

1. What did you learn that you did not already know from listening in on this section of our conversations from the porch?
2. What is it that troubled you about these conversations, and why?
3. Are there places where you have witnessed seeds of hope springing up with regard to overcoming racism in your community, within your congregation, within your family?
4. What seeds might we be called to sow that could grow into loving signs of justice, equality, and peace?
5. Who are the persons of color we need to get to know and with whom we need to build relationships within our community?
6. How and when will you have a conversation with someone of a different race or ethnic background about what soil you might till together in order to plant seeds of hope?
