

Partnerships

*...and let the one who believes in me drink.
As the scripture has said, "Out of the believer's heart
shall flow rivers of living water."
John 7:38*

What happens when believers come together to work on ways to help others flourish? Partnerships form!

United Methodists in Southern West Virginia have formed a partnership with Dig Deep, a human rights nonprofit serving the 2.2 million+ Americans without the sinks, bathtubs, or toilets. According to their website at digdeep.org, they have worked with communities to bring hot and cold running water into homes. They also work in research, advocacy, and workforce development all with the goal of closing the "water gap."

Dig Deep reports that there are millions of homes that still do not have running water or a toilet. Families in Central Appalachia are some of the hardest hit. Dig Deep in partnership with United Methodists in McDowell County are working to bring hot and cold running water to homes of many families in McDowell County and beyond.

What happens when partnerships form? Excitement happens. Are you excited to be a part of this project in our communities in Southern West Virginia? How shall rivers of living water flow out of our believer's hearts?

Visit wvumc.org/clean-water-in-southern-district/ to learn more

Partnerships

*...and let the one who believes in me drink.
As the scripture has said, "Out of the believer's heart
shall flow rivers of living water."
John 7:38*

What happens when believers come together to work on ways to help others flourish? Partnerships form!

United Methodists in Southern West Virginia have formed a partnership with Dig Deep, a human rights nonprofit serving the 2.2 million+ Americans without the sinks, bathtubs, or toilets. According to their website at digdeep.org, they have worked with communities to bring hot and cold running water into homes. They also work in research, advocacy, and workforce development all with the goal of closing the "water gap."

Dig Deep reports that there are millions of homes that still do not have running water or a toilet. Families in Central Appalachia are some of the hardest hit. Dig Deep in partnership with United Methodists in McDowell County are working to bring hot and cold running water to homes of many families in McDowell County and beyond.

What happens when partnerships form? Excitement happens. Are you excited to be a part of this project in our communities in Southern West Virginia? How shall rivers of living water flow out of our believer's hearts?

Visit wvumc.org/clean-water-in-southern-district/ to learn more

There is an ancient story
of a hummingbird,
and it is about how
we react to a crisis.

Right now,
we face a water
and sanitation crisis.
Do we stand and stare?

Or, do we act?

‘One day in the forest, a fire broke out. All the animals ran for their lives. They stood at the edge of the blaze, looking at the flames in terror and sadness. Up above their heads, a hummingbird was flying back and forth to the fire, over and over again.

The bigger animals asked the hummingbird what she was doing. “I am flying to the lake to get water to help put out the fire.” The animals laughed at her and said, “You can’t put out this fire!” The hummingbird replied, “I’m doing what I can.”

The hummingbird is helping solve the problem, one drop at a time. She is being the change she wants to see in the world.

You can be a hummingbird, too.

The actions you take, no matter how small, will help solve the water crisis.

World Clean Water Day is March 22nd, how will you respond?

Visit wvumc.org/clean-water-in-southern-district/ to learn more

There is an ancient story
of a hummingbird,
and it is about how
we react to a crisis.

Right now,
we face a water
and sanitation crisis.
Do we stand and stare?

Or, do we act?

‘One day in the forest, a fire broke out. All the animals ran for their lives. They stood at the edge of the blaze, looking at the flames in terror and sadness. Up above their heads, a hummingbird was flying back and forth to the fire, over and over again.

The bigger animals asked the hummingbird what she was doing. “I am flying to the lake to get water to help put out the fire.” The animals laughed at her and said, “You can’t put out this fire!” The hummingbird replied, “I’m doing what I can.”

The hummingbird is helping solve the problem, one drop at a time. She is being the change she wants to see in the world.

You can be a hummingbird, too.

The actions you take, no matter how small, will help solve the water crisis.

World Clean Water Day is March 22nd, how will you respond?

Visit wvumc.org/clean-water-in-southern-district/ to learn more